

Video Journalist

Competitive Salary

Shooting has an amazing story to tell. BASC is at the forefront of delivering that message to both the shooting community and the wider public.

We need a driven, motivated video journalist with the news sense and skills to source and produce engaging and thought-provoking content for our social media channels and website.

You must be aware of the current issues facing shooting and have clear ideas of how you would use video to promote its clear environmental and economic benefits.

We need somebody who is creative, fast and efficient with a no-fuss attitude to getting the job done. The job will involve travel and you must have a willingness to work unsociable hours when required.

Although a self-starter, you will be an integral part of the digital media team that sits within BASC's communications department.

The successful candidate will also have:

- Degree or equivalent level journalism qualification and willingness to undertake further training to ensure skills remain contemporary
- Experience in a video production role and an in depth knowledge of video equipment and technology
- Experience of technical production, filming and editing footage and maintaining libraries
- Professional and friendly approach and collaborates well with others in relation to video requirements
